... EVERGREENS ...

We have hundreds of varieties of Evergreens, and over 30,000 plants in all sizes up to 15 feet, the largest and most complete assortment in several states. This is just a sample of what we have. The prices are exceptionally low this fall.

Globe

AMERICAN ARBOR-VITAE. Small tree with pressed foliage, broad at base, tapering to a regular pyramid. One of the best quick-growing varieties where space permits. Popular for hedges.

GLOBE ARBOR-VITAE. A perfect ball of foliage spread proportionately broad to its height. Very dwarf, compact, and most attractive, with its flat, lacy foliage.

PYRAMIDAL ARBOR-VITAE. Should have been called columnar, for it grows in narrow, spirelike form. Unsurpassed for confined places or where a "spiky" accent plant is needed. Very popular.

PINE (White and Scotch). Two of the outstanding large growing Evergreens. Do well in either dry or moist locations. Free of disease.

HEMLOCK. "When in doubt, plant Hemlock." This has been our slogan for years. No better tree grows. Winter color is deepest green. Unusually graceful habit of branching. Can be sheared at any time, therefore is most adaptable as a foundation plant, hedge, or for general utility. Finest stock in America. Special quotations in quantity.

SPREADING JUNIPER. Pfitzer's Juniper is by far the best low sprawling type. Glaucous foliage and attractive horizontal branching habit. Free from most evergreen pests, including dogs. Lies close to ground and is the one best "tie-in" Evergreen.

White Pine

NORWAY SPRUCE. Known as the "Christmas Tree," and the most familiar Spruce. Tall, stately, handsome, and hardy everywhere. Superb as a specimen tree, or for wind-breaks and screens. 30 to 50 feet high.

IRISH JUNIPER. A perfect column of foliage, green with bluish cast. Do not plant close to hot wall. Unusually attractive for ten years or more.

PRICES OF 5- TO 8-YEAR-OLD TREES

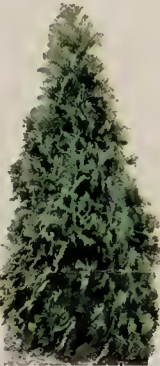

This list is going largely to new customers. As an introductory offer we are making bargain prices. The plants listed on this page are available in three sizes, any assortment. All plants sent with balls of soil.

A, $1.00 each; B, $1.50 each; C, $2.00 each. If you will add 20 per cent to remittance, we will prepay all shipping costs.

Broad-Leaved Evergreens

ABELIA. An ideal shrub with small, glossy green foliage and a continuous show of pink bell-shaped flowers from June until frost. Loses its leaves in January or later. 75c and $1.00 sizes. Balled and burlapped.

EUONYMUS PATENS. A spreading evergreen shrub, seldom growing over 4 feet high. In late summer it has inconspicuous flowers which are followed by pink berries which hold all winter. A splendid shrub because of the bright fruit and the rich green leaves that remain until spring. Plants, 75c, $1.00, and $1.50, according to size.

FLOWERING SHRUBS · SHADE and ORNAMENTAL TREES

SHRUBS

Hardy shrubs are needed in every garden as a background for the picture. They are useful for bordering roadsides and for screens, and some of them make lovely isolated specimens on the lawn.

These shrubs have been transplanted to make heavy roots and many branches. We assure you that they are considerably above average size.

Red Barberry

BARBERRY, Japanese. Very popular hedge or specimen shrub about 4 feet high. Foliage turns brilliant red and scarlet shades in fall, followed by bright berries that hang all winter.

BARBERRY, New Red. A fine shrub with red foliage all summer. Must be planted in full sunlight, else foliage will be bronzy. Red berries add to its winter interest.

DEUTZIA, Pride of Rochester. Tall shrub (8 to 10 feet) with sprays of double bell-shaped flowers all over the bush in June.

FORSYTHIA (Golden Bell). Its great show of golden yellow bells heralds the spring before the leaves appear. After mid-January twigs may be taken in the house and "forced." Excellent foliage.

HYDRANGEA, Hills of Snow. The tip of every stem carries in June a huge snowball-shaped flower which remains on the plants all through the summer.

HYDRANGEA, Pee-Gee (Old-fashioned Hydrangea). Large, cone-shaped blossoms in August. As these giant blossoms mature they turn pink, making a most attractive display.

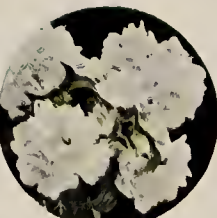

KOLKOWITZIA (Beauty Bush). Drooping, graceful branches and a profusion of beautiful bell-shaped, light pink blossoms in April.

MOCK-ORANGE (Syringa or Philadelphus). The old-fashioned "Orange Blossom" makes a marvelous display in May of pure white, exquisitely fragrant blossoms. One of the best all-round shrubs.

Forsythia

MOCK-ORANGE, Double or Virginal. Large, double, fragrant blossoms borne all over the bush make it a sight to behold. Later in the season it has considerable summer bloom. It is erect in growth and should be planted 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 feet apart for mass effect.

Double Mock Orange

SPIREA, Anthony Waterer (Dwarf Pink Spirea). A real gem of dwarf shrubs, about 2 feet high, producing a mass of pleasing pink blossoms in late May. If pruned it will continue to flower throughout the growing season.

SPIREA, Van Houttei (Bridal Bower or Bridal Wreath). Many believe it is still the best all-round shrub. Its great bowers of lovely white flowers spring like snow sprays from every big and little branch.

LILAC, Purple. Noble, old-fashioned plants. Our plants are propagated from divisions of fine, fragrant, sure-to-bloom specimens. We offer the old-fashioned white variety, too.

HIGH-BUSH CRANBERRY. Resembles Snowball and grows about 8 to 10 feet high. Valued for the great masses of bright red berries that cover the plant in late summer and early fall. Attractive to birds.

Cranberry

WEIGELA rosea. A good companion to Spirea Van Houttei. Its great sprays of pink flowers come in May. One of the most popular shrubs of medium height.
